We offer a full turnkey service so if you need building alternations for your renovation we can assist with everything from stripping and clearing the existing site, to plumbing, tiling, electrical and building work.

Why Is Design So Important?

Any decent carpenter or cabinet maker can build a kitchen.

But function within design is everything.

A kitchen has to be a workable space that is pleasing to the eye.

It is generally the largest investment within your home and a meeting place for most families.

It can make a sale of a home and per square meter brings the biggest return on investment.

What is fashionable in 2017 needs to transcend over the next decade plus.

In short – the design of your kitchen is the most important feature when planning.

The design, layout, look and feel as well as material used needs to offer longevity.

At Status Design Studio we pride ourselves in being able show you kitchens we fitted 10 years ago, that are still in production now.

Whilst many others copy our design and ideas we execute them with excellence, and well ahead of the trends.
